Collection Overview

Biographical Information/ Administrative Information:

Joshua Atherton was born in Harvard, MA, on June 20, 1737 to Peter and Experience (Wright) Atherton. He graduated from Harvard College in 1765 and then practiced law in Litchfield, NH, Merrimack, NH, and Amherst, NH. Joshua Atherton was chosen as a New Hampshire State Senator in 1792, but resigned that position when he was appointed Attorney-General in 1793. He died in Amherst, NH, on April 3, 1809.

Charles Humphrey Atherton was the son of Joshua and Abigail (Goss) Atherton on August 14, 1773 in Amherst, NH. He attended Harvard College and went on to practice law in Amherst. Charles H. Atherton served several terms throughout his life in the New Hampshire legislature. He was active in Amherst and New Hampshire affairs. Charles H. Atherton was a vice-president of the New Hampshire Historical Society in 1832 and 1833 and President of the Society from 1834 to 1837. He died on January 8, 1853 in Amherst.

Charles Gordon Atherton was born on July 4, 1804 in Amherst, NH, to Charles H. and Mary Ann (Toppan) Atherton. Like his father and grandfather, he attended Harvard College. He returned to New Hampshire and practiced law in Dunstable (Nashua), NH. From 1831 to 1832, he served as clerk of the New Hampshire State Senate. Atherton then was a State Representative from 1833 to 1836, serving as Speaker of the New Hampshire House. He was then elected to Congress and was in the House of Representatives from 1837 to 1843 and in Congress from 1843 to 1849 and 1853 to 1859.
