BACKGROUND:

Asa T. Barron and his brother, Oscar F. Barron, began developing their White Mountain hotel business in 1868-69. They later worked with Cordeanio Harley Merrill to form a company with hotel interests in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Florida. A full treatment of this company is offered in George E. McAvoy's And Then There Was One.

Hotels covered in this collection include the Crawford House, Fabyan House, Twin Mountain House, and Summit House. There were two Crawford Houses. The first was built in 1850 and burned in 1859. The second, known as Historic Crawford House, was built in 1859 and lasted until 1977, when the building, in derelict condition at the time, was consumed by fire. The Fabyan House was in existence from 1872-1951 and was built by the Boston and Maine Railroad and leased to O.f. and A.T. Barron. In September 1951, the Fabyan House was destroyed by fire. The Twin Mountain House, located on a terrace orth of the Ammonoosuc River, was in existence from 1869-1960. Built by O.F. and A.T. Barron in 1869, the Twin Mountain House had many different managers and was torn down in 1960. The Summit House existed from 1874-1930. The original building burned down in 1908 and was replaced by the Tip Top House (1908-1915), which was then replaced by the New Summit House in 1915.

SCOPE AND CONTENT:

This collection consists of invoices and receipts documenting business transactions of the company at the end of the Nineteenth Century through the 1920s. Crawford House papers and records cover the period when it was under the ownership of Barron-Merril-Barron, 1861-1965, and document the time when W.A. Barron was manager (1902-1947). The Fabyan House materials cover, primarily, the period during which Jennie Barron was manager, 1911-1932. The Twin Mountain House records cover the years during which the Barron-Merril-Barron Company held its title, 1902-1941. Summit House Records date from 1892 through 1927.

This collection also contains some personnel documents, specifically letters requesting positions in 1913. All of these requests were turned down by the company. Ledgers and cash books are also contained in this collection, as are canceled checks and check stubs, shipping and railway records, and railroad passenger ticket stubs. An index of companies with which Barron-Merril-Barron did business is included in this collection.
