Collection Overview

Biographical Information

The Comings family was from Cornish, New Hampshire. The progenitor, William Comings (1803-1859), was a bridge-builder and mechanic who worked in the surrounding area (Claremont, Lebanon, etc.). Other surnames associated with Comings and for whom there is information in this collection are Melendy, Rowell, and Rich.

Collection Scope and Content Note:

Bernard Rivers, who researched and gathered this information, concentrated on his own direct line, beginning with William Comings (1803-1859) of Cornish, NH, and tracing it for several generations forward. His information is as complete as was possible, and includes photographs of people, places, gravestones, and a few letters. There is also correspondence with librarians, town clerks, and informants of all kinds, as well as filled-out genealogical forms. His research took place between approximately 1971 and 2004. These dates are represented in the folder list below. Photocopies and original items (family photographs, correspondence, etc.) compiled during his research date from between approximately 1823 and 1953.

The first section of this scrapbook contains research and notes, including extensive correspondence on the adoption of Georgianna Billings, later known as Anna Amelia Comings, around 1868-1869.

Section eight contains extensive information on Henry Rich (1834-1900), his wife Abby Jane Kelley, and Rich's adoption of Anna Amelia (born Georgianna Billings). This section also includes information about Fred French (1867-1953), an unrelated boy raised by the family. The third folder of this series contains information about Azelia Rich (1848-1906), second wife of Henry Rich, as well as their children, Grace and Helen.

Arrangement:

This scrapbook was in a three ring binder, organized by the creator, Bernard Rivers, into sections, each about an individual ancestor and his or her family. That arrangement has been maintained, with the addition of page numbers penciled in the upper left corner. Items are of a variety of sizes and formats.

The folder titles indicate the section in the binder and name (and dates) of individuals for which information is present, and page numbers given when the pages were removed from the binder in 2022. The date on the far right of the folder is when the research was conducted, mostly in the 1970s with a few additions later. Only correspondence and some genealogical forms are dated; the researcher's notes are undated.
