

AYRES-GIVENS FAMILY PAPERS, c. 1899 – 1950

This collection of 1,000 plus items of personal and family correspondence documents the non-official life of Philip W. Ayres (1861-1945), conservationist and first forester of the Society for the Protection of NH Forests. Included are many letters not only from Ayres but from his wife, Alice Stanley Taylor (1866-1933) whom he married in 1899. Also included is correspondence to and from their two children, Ruth Wheelock Ayres Givens (1901-1989) and Dwight Taylor Ayres (b.1907).

There are also many letters from Alice Ayer' sister, Harriet C. Taylor (d. 1934) known in the family as "Tatio," a graduate of Radcliff and a high school teacher who lived with the Ayres' at their home in Newton, MA as well as, in summer, at "Hideaway Camp" in Franconia. There are also letters from members of Philip Ayres' family in the Midwest and California, and from members of the Givens family in the Midwest. (Ruth Ayres married Meredith B. Givens in 1929).

In addition to Philip Ayres' conservation interests, the papers speak to the changing roles of educated women in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The Taylor sisters, Alice and Harriet respectively, grew up in a Newton, MA family of nurserymen: both received college degrees (Alice, Smith '89 and Harriet, Radcliffe '99) and both were interested and active in causes outside the home.

Alice Ayres' daughter Ruth continued in this tradition; she graduated from Radcliffe in the mid-1920's and, after graduate work there, took a ph.d., from the Brookings Graduate School of Government and Economics. After study in Europe, which included involvement with the League of Nations, she married Meredith B. Givens, who worked in Washington for the Social Science Research Council. Ruth Ayres Givens worked in New York and Washington for the NRA and later the OPA on consumer issues. She also taught in New York, and in later years was connected with Penn State University.

In retirement, Ruth Ayres Givens lived in Franconia, where she edited and published local history. She died in Franconia on December 15, 1989.

When the Franconia property passed out of the family about 1990, Ruth Ayres Givens' son, Richard Ayres Givens, sold the contents—including these family papers—at auction where they were purchased by the undersigned. Some few items in the collection, which seemed in the nature of official records of the Society for the Protection of NH Forests were placed with that organization in 2001. Many hours have been spent in sorting and ordering the papers, which are now housed in acid free folders contained in one large records storage box.
